

Build Confidently with Join.

Your clients shouldn't have to decipher a spreadsheet when making million-dollar project decisions. Join allows you to keep everyone on the same page with up-to-date real-time information so decisions and their cost impacts are digestible and can be made in a timely fashion.

Keep everyone on the same page

Make massive email threads, missing attachments, and outdated spreadsheets a thing of the past. By capturing project information all in one place, Join facilitates key project decisions and stores supporting documents all in one central to reduce mistakes and keep everyone on the same page. With everyone oriented around the same, real-time project data in Join, keeping everyone informed is a breeze.

Save time preparing & presenting data

Join transforms complex project data into dynamic, easy-to-understand visuals so you spend less time pulling, pivoting, and validating data, and more time reaching decisions. Join allows you to instantly and confidently communicate project needs and cost impacts to decision-makers so you get the right decisions at the right time to keep projects moving forward.

Track project decisions with ease

Never wonder why a decision was made again. Join captures your project decision history so you can quickly see what, when, and why project decisions were made, and who made them, on every project to ensure transparency and accountability.

Stand out from the crowd

Create a better customer experience by taking the friction out of collaboration and decision-making. Join complements your business by making it easy for stakeholders to see what decisions are outstanding and how they impact costs and timelines. Companies are using Join in project pursuits to demonstrate how they foster transparency, collaboration, and predictability.
